6th Annual Nevada Association for Play Therapy Conference

Healing the Hurting Child: The Necessary Dimensions of Child Centered Play Therapy

with

Dr. Garry Landreth
 April 25 & 26, 2008
 8:30-4:30pm
 University of Nevada, Reno

For counselors or other professionals who work with children

Workshop information

About the Workshop

This workshop will focus on the perceptual world of the child, the dynamic elements of the relationship that facilitate the play therapy process, structuring the relationship in the playroom, “reading” themes in children’s play, the four healing messages needed by a child who is hurting, helping children develop self-control and self-responsibility, the ACT model of therapeutic limit setting, the language of facilitating change in children, guidelines for selecting appropriate toys and materials and a conceptual model of the process of change in play therapy.

Workshop activities will center around spontaneous demonstrations by Dr. Landreth dealing with specific problems in the play therapy experience, critique of video tapes of Dr. Landreth’s play therapy sessions and the art expressions of Ryan, a child who was dying. Handouts will be provided.

Learning Objectives

-  Identify four healing messages needed by children
-  Identify the three steps in therapeutic limit setting
-  Identify three characteristics of reflective responding in play therapy
-  Identify the basic toys needed in play therapy

About the presenter

Garry L. Landreth, LPC, RPT-S, internationally known for his writings and work in promoting the development of child-centered play therapy, is a Regents
